

Antique Stick Barometer, Thermometer, Carpenter and Westley, London, Oak, c.1860

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5637

This is an antique stick barometer by Carpenter and Westley, 24 Regents Street, London. Dome topped, in oak and dating to the mid 19th century, circa 1860.

- Of fine quality by renowned London maker, Carpenter and Westley
- Cased in English oak displaying grain interest and a desirable patina
- Bright, clear hand engraved scales with a pair of vernier slides
- The slides adjusted by the pair of original knobs
- Featuring a thermometer in the shaft
- Over lower turned cistern cover
- The back retains the original installation instructions

An antique stick barometer beautifully made and in excellent working condition. Ready to hang.

Search London Fine for #18.5637 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 11.5cm (4.5")

Max Depth: 9cm (3.5")

Max Height: 95cm (37.5")

Find out more about Carpenter and Westley, 24 Regents Street, London here...

