

Antique Stick Barometer, Davis Leeds, English, Oak, Scientific Instrument c.1830

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5638

This is an antique stick barometer by Davis of Leeds. English, oak and dating to the early 19th century, circa 1830.

- Of fine quality by renowned maker, Davis of Leeds
- Cased in English oak displaying grain interest and a desirable patina
- Bright, clear hand engraved scales with a pair of vernier slides
- The slides adjusted by the original knob – operates both arbours
- The shaped pediment decorated with floral carving
- Floral carving repeated above and below the thermometer in the shaft
- And again in the lower floral carved cistern cover

An antique stick barometer beautifully made and in excellent working condition. Ready to hang.

Search London Fine for #18.5638 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 16.5cm (6.5")

Max Depth: 8cm (3.25")

Max Height: 102cm (40.25")

Find out more about Davis, Leeds here...

