

Victorian Pole Screen

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # LFA-1149 This is an antique pole screen dating to c.1850 in the early Victorian period. The needlepoint textile, in muted shades of golden greens and blues, depicts stylised flora and fauna beautifully framed in the deep relief carved mount featuring scrolled and stylised feather detail. Anchored by a substantial tripod base, the cabriole legs are richly embellished with carved scrolled toes and foliate detail to the knees. The bulb and trumpeted form of the pole support is balanced by the inverted finial beneath and upwards to the delicate finial sitting atop the screen pole. The original brass twist lock holds the screen at the desired height with the screen reverse professionally re-upholstered in a luxurious striped fabric edged in brocade trim. Superb quality and a stunning piece presented in very good antique condition. Solid joints and construction. Delivered waxed & polished ready for the home.

Search London Fine for #LFA-1149 or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 49cm (19.25")
Max Depth: 50cm (19.75")
Max Height: 148cm (58.25")

