

19th Century French Antique Armoire

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # LFA-1216 This is a French antique armoire dating to the mid 19th Century. A fine example, the burl elm field panels are a delight in the cabinet doors that are hung on substantial pin hinges and close to a central carved lap featuring a floral motif. The deep carving continues in the upper frieze beneath the generous crown moulding and also on the lower drawer and shaped apron beneath. Dressed with solid brass furniture and original lock and key, the doors open to reveal adjustable shelving above three lower, oak lined drawers. The traditional pegged joints add strength to the generous oak stock framework, some historic worm, long since gone, has been professionally treated for good measure. A provincial piece of great character, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
