

Framed, Vintage David Hockney Poster, American, Parade, Met Opera, New York

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6637

This is a framed, vintage David Hockney poster. An American advertisement titled Parade for the Metropolitan Opera of New York, dating to the late 20th century, circa 1980.

- Appealing, sought after example of Hockney's work
- Inspired by his love of Picasso and Matisse's technique
- Depicts the harlequin from the 1917 musical Parade with Hockney's geometric style
- Palette consists of bright primary colours giving a clean look to the piece
- Colourful text giving the title and event sitting against a white ground
- Professionally framed behind glass and dressed with a hanging rope to the rear

This framed vintage poster is by the collectible David Hockney and is a colourful, sought after piece. Delivered ready for display.

Search London Fine for #18.6637 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 63cm (24.75")

Max Depth: 2.5cm (1")

Max Height: 99.5cm (39.25")

