

Antique Engineer's Setting Level, English, Brass, Instrument, Edwardian, C.1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6642

This is an antique engineer's setting level. An English, brass instrument, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Charming and petite instrument
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Brass body and top plate with appealing tones throughout
- Top plate and body shows desirable signs of light use
- Level vial residing behind a pair of viewing windows
- Monogram engraved to the side reads B.C.

This is an attractive antique engineer's setting level, well suited for the office environment or collections of scientific interest. Delivered polished and ready for display.

Search London Fine for #18.6642 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 8.5cm (3.25")

Max Depth: 2cm (.75")

Max Height: 2cm (.75")

