

Antique Drawing Instrument Set, German, Cartographer, Technical, Richter, C.1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6896

This is an antique drawing instrument set. A German, brass cartographer's or architect's technical drawing set, by Richter, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Nicely presented set of instruments
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Brass and silver nickel tools offer contrasting tones
- Set within a black, baize-lined case
- 13 pieces comprising tools and accessories
- Pair of brass compass with appealing lever arm folding mechanism
- Spring-bow compass with pleasing geometric aesthetic
- Maker's mark to case lid for Präcision, by Richter and set number of P VII

This is an attractive and collectable antique drawing instrument set, by Richter of Germany. Quality brass and silver nickel instruments beam against the baize lining. Delivered polished and ready for the desk or within a collection.

Search London Fine for #18.6896, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 26.5cm (10.5")

Max Depth: 11cm (4.25")

Max Height: 2.5cm (1")

Find out more about Richter here....

LIST PRICE

£345.00

