

Vintage Cunard Cruise Line Poster, English, Print, RMS Lusitania, Maritime, Ship

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7258

This is a vintage Cunard cruise line poster. An English, reproduction serigraph print of RMS Lusitania, dating to the late 20th century.

Celebrating the transatlantic voyages of Cunard and the Lusitania, this framed print of a classic Cunard Line advertisement offers fine detail, and is an attractive example of maritime interest. Once the Blue Riband holder for the fastest crossing of the Atlantic, she met her fate off the coast of Ireland in 1915. Instrumental in the push by rival company White Star Line to build the Olympic class liners, including the infamous Titanic, Cunard's standing in the early 20th century is of historical interest over one hundred years later.

- Displaying a desirable aged patina
- Presented behind glass plate with clear, bright optics
- Quality frame in white finish adding vibrancy to the poster's colour
- Dockside image with fine detail, depicting hundreds waiting to board and see off their loved ones
- Ready to wall mount with hanging wire to the rear
