

Large Antique Steamer Trunk, English, Cedar, Shipping Chest, Edwardian, C.1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7448

This is a large antique steamer trunk. An English, cedar and bentwood shipping chest, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- A charming example from the golden age of sea voyages
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and its years of travel
- Natural cedar offers fine grain interest and mellow caramel hues
- Stout bentwood bracing with iron caps to corners
- Dressed with a large central clasp with a pair of latches alongside
- Each clasp offers a sliding lock – tested as working, with key present
- Key replete with 'Royal Yacht Club, London' fob
- Lid opens smoothly, resting upon a hinge stay to reveal a light cream interior
- Original leather carry handles to each end with circular iron mounts
- Fascinating travel labels for locales including France and the Netherlands adorn the fascia

• Hand-written 'hold' mark to lid with 'deck 3' on left side and '3rd' to the right, respectively

Search London Fine for #18.7448, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 93.5cm (36.75")

Max Depth: 55.5cm (21.75")

Max Height: 33.5cm (13.25")

