

Antique Silvered Hip Flask, K.P. c.1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # LFA-1072 This is an antique hip flask dating to the turn of the century c.1900. Marked 'K.P. G', this plated quarter pint flask is a delightful antique that may still be used today and bears a desirable patina and finish so lacking in modern examples. Tactile in form, the silvered screw cap benefits from the original cork built into the lid that still functions very well. The glass bottle cosseted in the brown leather upper features an aperture to see when the flask may need refilling. The lower part of the flask protected by the silvered removable cup decorated with engraved foliate garland around a plain, central cartouche each side. The cup slides effortlessly and snugly onto the bottle.
