

Antique Lord Bury 4 Draw Telescope, English, Leather, Steward, Victorian, C.1870

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8092

This is an antique Lord Bury 4 draw telescope. An English, leather and brass terrestrial or astronomical refractor by J.H. Steward of London, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1870.

Perfect for bird watching, landscape appreciation, wildlife, or maritime observation. Equally suitable for observing the night sky.

- A captivating and pleasingly tactile Victorian telescope
- Displaying a desirable aged patina, in very good order
- Dashing appearance, dressed discretely in quality black leather
- Polished brass draw barrels show bright golden tones
- Protective leather end caps for the front element and eye cup
- Presenting a clear, bright optical performance with a 40mm (1.5") primary objective lens

lens

- Swivel type dust cover to the concentric ring decorated eyecup
- Each of the four draw tubes offer a reassuring pull
- Engraved brass plaque to the primary barrel with maker's mark and serial number

948

- Reads: 'The Lord Bury Telescope - Sole Manufacturer - J.H. Steward - 406 Strand

London

+44 (0) 207 1833 511

Search London Fine for #18.8092, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 25.5cm (10")

Max Depth: 83.5cm (32.75")

Max Height: 4cm (1.5")

Find out more about J.H.Steward Ltd