

Antique Set of Eight Dining Chairs, English Oak, Red, Victorian Gothic c1860

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 11.3506

This is an antique set of eight dining chairs in English oak with red upholstery, Victorian gothic, circa 1860.

- Gothic and Ecclesiastical overtones to this fine set of chairs
- Desirable aged patina to the caramel tones of the English oak
- Robust and sturdy, each chair weighing in at 10Kg (22lbs)
- Well sprung and traditionally stuffed offering a comfortable seat
- Upholstered in a claret Chenille cloth with studded finish
 - Textile in clean, serviceable order, however, the chairs could perhaps benefit from recovering at some stage as there are some worn corners consistent with use
 - Show back for an attractive flash of the red from behind
 - Raised on stout, square section legs united by an 'H' stretcher
 - The front legs of column form with flared capitols and stub block feet
 - The high back panel rising to a domed crest rail

Search London Fine for #11.3506 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 48cm (19")
- Max Depth: 50cm (19.75")
- Max Height: 111cm (43.75")
- Seat Width: 48cm (19")
- Seat Depth: 40cm (15.75")
- Seat Height: 51cm (20")

